

Benefits of CBD

1-What is CBD

CBD, or cannabidiol, is a naturally occurring compound found in cannabis plants. It belongs to a group of compounds called cannabinoids. Unlike its well-known counterpart, THC (tetrahydrocannabinol), CBD does not have psychoactive effects, meaning it does not produce a "high" sensation. CBD has gained significant attention due to its potential therapeutic properties, including its purported ability to alleviate pain, reduce inflammation, relieve anxiety, and promote relaxation. It is commonly available in various forms such as oils, soft gels, creams, and edibles, and is used as a complementary or alternative treatment for wellness.

2-Can CBD get you high:

No. CBD is not psychoactive, therefore it will not get you high. However, CBD can have a positive effect on your central nervous system as well as your mental state. CBD is known for balancing out your central nervous system by returning it to homeostasis. Many users of CBD report feeling a profound sense of relaxation, alertness, or mental clarity from taking CBD.

3-What is the Entourage Effect:

The entourage effect is the synergistic relationship of the naturally occurring compounds found in hemp plants. The cannabinoids, terpenes, and flavonoids found in hemp have shown to work better when they are taken together as opposed to in isolation from each other.

4-Why do people use CBD tincture (Oil):

A CBD Tincture (Oil) is good for maintaining a daily CBD regimen for whole-body wellness. Each of our CBD Tinctures are benefit-specific with our customers needs (and wants) at the top of our mind. Our CBD Tinctures are also useful if you like to blend your CBD into drinks, food recipes and more!

5-Are CBD Oils better than softgels or capsules:

We don't believe one way is better than the other – it simply depends on personal preference.

6-Is CBD good for the skin:

CBD is a great anti-inflammatory when applied topically. CBD is perfectly safe to apply to your skin.

7-What kind of tests are performed on our products:

All of our CBD products are third party lab tested to ensure full transparency, purity and premium quality.
